Hope May Come in a Whisper

Have you been feeling depressed?

If so, you are not alone. Some of God's greatest servants have struggled with depression. In my journey through the Old Testament this week I came across the story of a man who was struggling with depression big time. He had just been instrumental in orchestrating a huge victory over the false prophets (1 Kings 18:20-40). But shortly after his triumphant victory, he became a hunted man. He was running for his life. He all but gave up. No wonder he was depressed...he had no food, no water, and wicked Jezebel was out to do him in (1 Kings 19:1-9).

He called out to God and said, "I have been very zealous for the Lord God of Hosts; I have pursued your covenant, and have torn down altars. I alone am left and they seek to take my life." (1 Kings 19:10). When did this happen? When was he feeling so dejected? Only days after he had routed the 450 false prophets of Baal.

In your own life, have you ever noticed that after a great feat or significant accomplishment, discouragement or even depression frequently follows? When that happens, do not be surprised. That is simply the way Satan works. Continue to look for God and He will reveal Himself. But, He may reveal himself in a surprising way. In this story, Elijah expected God to reveal himself in some dramatic and magnificent way. But God did not work that way! Rather, God revealed himself in a whisper (1 Kings 19:11-14). Surprising, but true!

So if you been feeling depressed or overwhelmed, listen for God to whisper words of hope and encouragement (Psalms 46:10).

A Few Moments with Merle

The Everlasting Arms

Bad things happen in all our lives. Whether it is a national tragedy that involves thousands, or a lone person sobbing in a hospital waiting room after learning their loved one has died in the night, tragedy in life is a reality.

God is our refuge and strength in such times.

A mother eagle built her nest on a ledge of rock, a rock that had jutted out over the steep and dangerous precipice. One day she laid four eggs and she and her mate sat on them until they hatched. Then began the task of feeding them. Both parents were involved in the endless search for field mice and the like to fill the beaks which never seemed satisfied. One day the mother returned to her nest, and was startled at what she found. Clinging to the edge of her nest with all of its might was one of her babies – below it a fall of more than 1,000 feet. The little bird could not fly yet, and if it let go it would be crushed by the 1,000 foot drop. Screaming, the mother flew toward her baby, but as she flew, the baby's strength ran out and it fell from the ridge. As it fell, the mother swooped low, her strong wings spread wide to break the baby's fall, and then she caught it in her talons and glided with her little one, safely back to its nest.

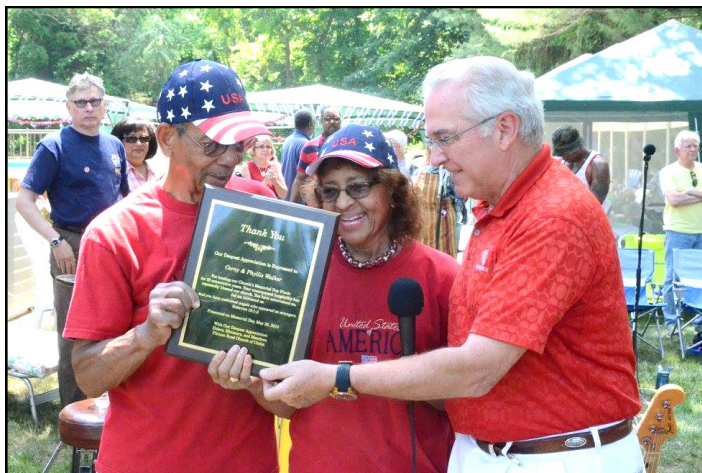

That's the picture that Moses had in mind when he assured the believers of his day, "The eternal God is your refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms." (Deuteronomy 33:27)

God does not promise us freedom from difficulties in this world. Instead, He promises His presence and help in the midst of difficulty.

The 25th Annual Walker's Memorial Day Picnic

Last Monday we were once again blessed by the hospitality of Corny and Phyllis Walker, who hosted their 25th Annual Memorial Day Picnic! On behalf of the church, Dan presented the Walkers with a plaque thanking them for all their years of hospitality. We thank you Phyllis and Corny for all you've done to bless us each Memorial Day!

Dave Perine and Joe Marshall continued their tradition as grill cooks. Bert Kellum and Roseann Savastano served food for hours. These are only four of the many, many people who help the Walkers pull this off each year.

Our talented members gave us a full afternoon of live entertainment. Cindy Holden and Jim Hightower started the afternoon off. Andrew Holden and Anita O'Hara took advantage of the "open mic" time to perform for us. The Refuge Band, featuring Brian Kleineweber, Charlie Peterson, Mallory Perine, Debbie Contravo, Brandon Keeks, Jonathan Baptiste, and Marlon Bundridge blessed the crowd with praise and worship music. Not pictured is Desna Yanzuk, who finished out the afternoon with her beautiful voice.

There was fellowship, food, and fun for all 200 (the "official" Dave Perine count) people who attended!

Thank You!

A few Saturdays ago I went to a celebration at Drexel University. When I arrived, I dropped off about a dozen men's and women's business suits to be used for interviews. The students receiving them were ecstatic. They repeatedly thanked me and told me that I can't imagine how helpful this will be to the students for interviews. I let them know that these were donated by members of the Pitman Road church of Christ. I THANK YOU for our partnership in blessing others.
